In order to avoid misunderstandings Aktion Plagiarius will inform the supposed imitator about your prior design rights of the product and give him adequate time and allow him to react and describe his viewpoint before admitting the plagiarism to the jury session of the plagiarius competition. Independent of our letter you may of course also ask the imitator for an adequate statement. In this case please attach your letter to the imitator as well as a possible answer of the imitator.

Should we belong to the prize winners:

we agree that for the award ceremony/press conference Aktion Plagiarius will prepare 250 press folders (incl. photos of the prize winners and a press cd) and confirm our payment of the costs incurred (max. EUR 200,00 plus VAT and if necessary retouch).

we agree that both - original product and copy - remain with Aktion Plagiarius and may be shown at the Museum Plagiarius in Solingen or at exhibitions and related events.

we revocably agree that the documents handed in may also be used by third parties for scientific investigations and academic research.

The undersigned declares that he/she as a manufacturer and/or distributor is entitled to make an entry and that all information is true and may be collaborated.

The letter to the imitator in which the undersigned informs the imitator about his/her prior design rights and a possible answer of the imitator are attached.

Important: Should anyone take extrajudicial or legal steps against "Aktion Plagiarius e.V." in connection with the letter to the imitator to give his viewpoint concerning the reproach of plagiarism or in connection with the exhibition and or awarding (announced or carried out) of the handed in units (original + plagiarism), the applicant commits himself to discharge "Aktion Plagiarius" from the costs occurring and from any claims (especially claims for damages) and to support "Aktion Plagiarius" in a possible question of law. Aktion Plagiarius preserves the right - in case of any absurdities that cannot be clarified before the jury meets - to exclude a product unit from the competition without reimbursement of the registration fee.
